

DESPITE the fact that the mid-summer heat is over the town, taking the energy and vim out of social life as well as out of all activity, the past week has been gay and no less so than any preceding for some time. Not only have the lake parties been numerous, but many home affairs, delightful for their simplicity, have been recorded. While a large number of the gay set have taken to the hills, there are still some left, and the indications are that the informal sort of entertainment will continue till the autumn.

With the closing of the Country club yesterday for a short season, a number of those who have found life quite endurable at that charming spot will leave for short outings at the resorts near-by. The club will reopen about the 20th for the autumn season, and will doubtless be gay as ever.

Coming Events.

Miss Jacobs and Miss Geddes will be the hostesses at a high tea to be given next Thursday evening at the home of Miss Jacobs.

Mrs. W. H. Myers will give an informal morning party next Friday in honor of Mrs. E. R. Dickinson of Denver.

Judge and Mrs. J. C. Royle and Mrs. Martha Royle King will give another musicale next Friday evening.

Mrs. A. W. Burrows will entertain at cards next Thursday afternoon.

Engagements.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ridge announce the engagement of their daughter, Lydia Gray, to Mr. George Raymond Walker. The marriage will take place early in September. The young lady, although new to the social circles of the city, is nevertheless a great favorite, and her friends both here and in Kansas City, her former home, will be glad to learn of the happy event. The family is one of the wealthiest and most prominent in Missouri, and Miss Ridge was a leading belle in the state. The groom is one of the rising young business men of the city. Although the friends of both have suspected the matter for some time, this is the first announcement made by the parents of the young lady.

Mr. and Mrs. John Felt announce the engagement of their daughter Gertrude to Mr. Harry S. Kimball. The wedding will be one of the early September events. The young people are both well known locally, and they have a large circle of friends who will rejoice in their happiness.

Reception.

A very pleasant event was the reception given by Mrs. J. A. Kimball and Miss Blanche Kimball last Monday evening in honor of Mr. Leon Woodmansee. The guests were received in the large reception hall, and seated in the north parlors, where a splendid programme was rendered. The hostesses were assisted in entertaining their guests by Mrs. Ledyard M. Bailey and Mrs. J. R. Walker. After the programme a social hour was spent, and delicious refreshments were served. The dining room was in charge of Mrs. W. A. Nelden, who was assisted by Dr. Luella Miles and Miss Edna Bailey. The guests invited to meet Mr. Woodmansee were Mr. and Mrs. Boggs, Colonel and Mrs. Munroe, Dr. and Mrs. Bickford, Mrs. Elliott, Dr. and Mrs. Bascom, Mr. and Mrs. Titcher Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Knight, Major and Mrs. Downey, Judge and Mrs. Goodwin, Dr. and Mrs. Rykert, Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Ferry, Mr. and Mrs. Akers, Mr. and Mrs. Walker, Judge and Mrs. Royle, Colonel and Mrs. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, Dr. and Mrs. Niles, Mr. and Mrs. Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Bidwell, Mr. and Mrs. Pearsall, Mr. and Mrs. Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Fabian, Mr. and Mrs. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Rice, Mrs. T. C. Bailey, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Martha R. King, Mr. and Mrs. Folsom, Mrs. Gue, Mrs. Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. J. W. Bowers of Los Angeles; the Misses Edna Bailey, Cohn, Chamberlain, Woodward, Woodmansee, Monroe, Shearman, Longmald; Messrs. Woodmansee, Eastman, Shelton, Lawrence, Thompson, Paden, Lindsay, Shearman, L. W. Critchlow, Dr. Critchlow, Plummer, Copley, Richardson.

Dinner at the Country Club.

The largest dinner ever given at the Country club, and certainly one of the most enjoyable events, was that at which Mrs. Victor M. Clement was the hostess Wednesday evening. Tables were spread out under the trees to the east of the house, and dainty decorations of pink and white carnations were used. A bowl of the flowers formed a centerpiece for each table, and almond boxes of white tied with pink ribbons added to the color scheme. The whole was lighted as the twilight passed away with Japanese lanterns, and Japanese fans were used for place cards. The guests present were Colonel and Mrs. Bubb, Captain and Mrs. Sturges, Captain and Mrs. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Daggett, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Perry, Colonel and Mrs. Holmes, the Misses Bubb, Zane, Nason, McCormick, Chamberlain, Woodward, Mrs. Miner, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Clement, Mrs. Rykert, Mrs. Channing, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Hooper, and Messrs. Goodwin, Holden, Schramm, Woodward, McCormick, Willard Thompson, J. W. Thompson, Richardson, Shoup, W. J. Lawrence, and Dr. Lindsay, Dr. Critchlow, and Captains Howell, Creary and Winn.

Musical.

The musicals given Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Duncan in honor of Mrs. Martha Royle King, Professor Skelton, Professor Goddard and Professor Woodmansee, was attended by a large and appreciative audience. Mrs. King rendered several songs in a most pleasing manner, and was heartily cheered. Professor Skelton's selections on the violin showed him to be master of that instrument. Miss Edna Duncan also favored the audience with two songs and the manner in which she sang shows promise of a bright future. On account of illness Mr. Woodmansee was not present, but Mrs. Osborn kindly played an instrumental solo which met with a burst of applause.

Garden Party.

Wednesday evening witnessed one of the gayest scenes ever presented at the Country club. Mrs. S. D. Sturges of Fort Douglas was the hostess of the day, and the day closed with a delightful dancing party. A fine floor was laid out under the trees to the east of the house, and this and the grounds adjacent were lighted with numerous Japanese lanterns. The regimental band from the post furnished excellent dance music, and the gay summer gowns with the picture hats made the scene one of genuine beauty. More than 100 guests of the club besides the regular members enjoyed the delightful event.

At Luncheon.

Miss Katherine Geddes was the hostess at a charmingly informal luncheon last Tuesday, given in honor of Miss Lockhart of Colorado Springs. The table decorations were sweet peas, and place cards of the same design were used. The table presented a pretty picture of a summer gathering, the guests present to meet Miss Lockhart being Mrs. D. S. Murray, Mrs. R. J. Channing, Mrs. Louise Smedley Smith, and the Misses Dooly, Burke, McCormick, Sherman, Harkness and Lowe.

At Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Miller gave a charmingly appointed dinner at the Country club Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. Vile of Saratoga, N. Y. Parents of Mrs. Miller, who are visiting in the city for the summer. The table, spread in the east dining room, was a mass of pink and white bloom, sweet peas and carnations being used in profusion. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. Vile, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Lowe.

Afternoon Party.

Mrs. J. A. Reeves was the hostess at a pleasant afternoon party last Wednesday, given in honor of Mrs. E. L. Dickinson of Denver. Nasturtiums were used as a floral decoration for the parlors, and the dining room was done in the same flowers of a brilliant red hue only. Punch was served by the Misses Harrison. An interesting guessing game was played in which Mrs. C. Ira Tuttle won the first prize, the second falling to Mrs. D. C. De Graff. A handsome prize was awarded to the guest of honor. About forty guests were present.

A Pleasant Luncheon.

Miss Murphy of the Collegiate Institute was the hostess at a beautifully arranged luncheon Thursday given in honor of her friend, Miss Katherine Smith of Logan, who was formerly a teacher in the institute. The table decorations were sweet peas, a large bowl being used as a centerpiece, and individual bouquets decorating the place cards. The ladies present to meet Miss Smith were Mrs. Samuel Paul, Mrs. A. S. Martin, Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Williamson, Miss Stanton of Illinois, Miss Kathleen Murphy of Texas, Mrs. Blakey, Mrs. McNiece, Mrs. Caskey and Mrs. M. M. Johnson.

House Party.

Miss E. La Von Peirce was hostess at a delightful house party lasting from the 20th to the 30th of July. Twenty-six of her friends were very charmingly entertained at her beautiful home in Brigham City during the ten days. On the 23d Miss Peirce gave a jolly "hayrack ride" in a rack profusely decorated with hollyhocks. On the 24th she was hostess at a "farmer's tally-ho party" to the horse races, American flags were used for decorating and each guest was provided with an immense farmer's straw hat and a tin horn. On the 28th the party went for an outing to the Ogden hot springs, where bathing and dancing were enjoyed. The pleasures of cosy corners, shady nooks and hammocks were otherwise only broken by drives and horse-back rides. That no one but Miss Peirce could entertain so charmingly is the opinion of all her guests. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. L. T. Peirce.

Following is a list of the guests who were present: Misses Edna Harker, Pearl Weiler, Pearl Peirce, May Billings and May Gibson of Salt Lake City; Virginia and Phoebe Houtz of Ogden; and Gretha Cardon of Logan; Messrs. Ray Savage, Claude Williams, Roy Adamson, Victor Wells, Joe Sheets, Jack Tarpey, George Feakins and Harry Bowring of Salt Lake City; David Eccles, Bert Adams, George Knauss, Del Gay and Jack Browning of Ogden; Will McAllister of Logan; Norman Vaughan of Washington; Horace Merrill of Provo, and George Whitson of Chicago.
